The scope of this provision has further been widened with effect from 1.8.98, whereby even if one of the six criteria is be fulfilled, a return of income is required to be filed in Form No. 2C, the additional two criteria being membership of certain clubs and holding of certain credit cards. This provision has been brought in the statute on the presumption that any person who fulfills such conditions is likely to have taxable income.

The Department is collecting and collating information of persons covered by these economic criteria and whereever such persons have not filed the returns of income, letters and notices calling for the same are being issued.

(c) and (d) Every year the Department receives returns of income from persons having taxable income and those liable to file return, under the provisions of Income tax Act, 1961. All returns received are processed for any prima-facia adjustments permissible under the law. Further, these returns are examined to see whether there is any need for detailed scrutiny. The cases which are selected for scrutiny are checked thoroughly after verification of all details submitted as well as obtained from the assessee and third parties. Besides the routine assessment procedure, information in case of suspected tax evasion is also collected through the Investigation wing of the Department and such information is used in bringing to tax the correct income. In serious cases of tax evasion, search and seizure operations are also undertaken by the Department through its Investigation Wing.
